Panther Prints

LIBRARY CORNER — Many of our students are interested in weather. This week we read about PUNXSUTAWNEY PHIL. According to legend, if he sees his shadow, — we will have a longer winter; no shadow — spring is on it’s way. It was fun to learn that Phil has a wife named “Phyllis” and his friend “Staten Island Chuck” has the same job in New York. The whole story started by German settlers in Pennsylvania in the 18th century. We have a myriad of books on weather and, no doubt, we are raising future meteorologists.

HAPPY CAMPERS come to our Scholastic Book Fair during the week of February 27—March 3, daily from 9 am—3 pm. Great books available for yourself, your kids, gifts for others or you can donate some to your teachers and the library.
